PVE SCRIPTED OPERATIONS

2nd Edition v20260921

PVE SCRIPTED OPERATIONS

ABOUT

An Operation is a three-Mission deployment arc played against a single NPC faction. Where a standard PvE Mission is generated by rolling for its Battlefield, Deployment, and Objectives, the Operations in this book are authored: each one fixes those choices in advance and wraps them in a short narrative thread, so the three Missions read as one continuous engagement rather than three unrelated fights.

Every playable faction has one Operation against each faction in the galaxy, including its own. Choose the Operation that matches the Faction you are playing and the enemy you want to fight, then run its three Missions in order.

Note you will need the  Core Rules PDF and the  Missions PDF books to play these Operations.

OPERATION SEQUENCE

1. Choose an Operation for your Faction
2. Set the Threat Level
3. Build the NPC Squad from the listed Squad Type
4. Play Mission 1, 2, and 3 in order
5. Return to Homebase

RUNNING AN OPERATION

Each Operation entry lists the enemy Faction and the Squad Type to build its NPC Squad from, a single Battlefield used for all three Missions, and a fixed Objective and Deployment for each Mission.

The listed objective is the Primary Objective. That is the Objective that progresses the Operation: it must be completed to proceed to the next Mission in the Operation. If the Squad does not complete the Primary Objective (including Extraction), replay the Mission with a new secondary Objective. Roll a second, random Secondary Objective at the start of the Mission. That Secondary Objective must be of a different Archetype than the Primary Objective.

Set up each Mission as described in the Missions book, using the provided Battlefield, Objective, and Deployment instead of the usual rolls. All other rules are unchanged: Battlefield effects still trigger each Turn after the first, Objectives are scored normally, and Mission scoring works as it does in any PvE Mission.

Every Operation uses one Control, one Activate, and one Destroy Primary Objective across its three Missions, and never repeats a Deployment. Expect each Operation to demand a Squad that can hold ground, work an objective, and break a target.

BETWEEN MISSIONS

The Squad stays deployed for all three Missions: it cannot change its Units or Gear, and MP earned during the Operation cannot be spent until it ends. Between Missions, remove one Injury from any one Unit in the Squad (one total, not one per Unit). After the third Mission, the Squad returns to Homebase as normal.
