Squad Operations In A Dying Galaxy

FACTIONS

Version 20260220

FACTIONS

INTRODUCTION

The galaxy is dying.

Empires rot from within, ancient horrors stir in the void, and the last habitable worlds are fought over like scraps of meat. There are no clean wars anymore—only raids, interdictions, containment failures, and desperate last stands.

FACTIONS

The factions of Ruinstars are not armies in the traditional sense. They are specialized forces, cult cells, strike teams, and expendable operatives sent where conventional power has already failed. Some fight to preserve order. Others to hasten collapse. Many simply fight to survive one more mission.

This book details those factions: who they are, how they fight, and what kinds of Units make up their squads.

BUILDING A SQUAD

FULL SQUADS (100 GP)

A Full Squad is the standard way to play Ruinstars.

- You have 100GP to spend
- All Units and gear are selected by a single player
- This squad is used as-is for PvE, PvP, or Horde play

Full Squads are recommended for:

- Solo play
- One-player-per-side PvP
- Campaign play
- First-time players

A typical Full Squad consists of:

- 4-10 Units
- A mix of specialists and line Units
- Enough redundancy to absorb losses without immediate failure

MINI SQUADS (SHARED 100 GP)

In games with multiple players on the same side, the squad can be split into

Mini Squads.

- 2 Players → 50 GP each
- 3 Players → 34 GP each
- 4 Players → 25 GP each

Notes:

- Each mini-squad may have a Leader, but their Leader effect is ignored for rolling T0s (i.e. only one player rolls for T0s).
- Units that are in different mini-Squads are considered to be Squadmates.

UNIT AND GEAR SELECTION

• Select Faction

Choose the Faction that best fits the way you want to play and build your squad using the App or by filling out the cards at the end of this book.

• Select Units

Select Units from that faction's Unit list. Your Squad can only include one Leader, and it cannot include more than 1 of each Unique Unit (marked with an asterisk *).

• Select Gear, Weapons, and Skills

Equip Units with any allowed gear. When selecting Gear for your Squad (Weapons, Equipment, etc), any item whose name ends with an asterisk (*) is Unique and cannot be added more than once to your squad.

HEGEMONY

The Human Hegemony is not merely defending its borders, it is reclaiming the Stars. Born from the wreckage of fractured coalitions and failed utopias, the Hegemony believes the only path to survival is through absolute, total control. Alien civilizations, breakaway colonies, rogue intelligences - all are viewed as eventual threats. The Hegemony does not wait for chaos. It strikes first.

Through a grinding machine of bureaucracy, propaganda, and overwhelming force, it subjugates world after world in the name of order. Its systems may be uneven, its reach imperfect, but its will is relentless. From the core worlds to the forgotten sectors, the message is clear: compliance is life; resistance is annihilation.

INTERDICTORS

Elite commandos of the Human Hegemony, deployed where diplomacy was never an option. Interdictors operate behind enemy lines to eliminate threats, secure forbidden tech, and silence dissent before it spreads. Disciplined, relentless, and unyielding, they are not peacekeepers, they are the sharp edge of a regime that expands by force and survives through fear.

"We are the mandate. We do not fail."

The Interdictors are elite commando units, precision instruments of sanctioned annihilation who answer to the silent, unseen, infallible Hegemon itself. Operating behind enemy lines, they are tasked with critical strike missions: assassinating rebel leaders, sabotaging planetary infrastructure, disabling artifact vaults, or seizing xeno-tech before it spreads. They operate in shadows and leave nothing standing.

Drawn from the Hegemony's most loyal and lethal operatives, Interdictor squads are self-sufficient, heavily armed, and trained to adapt.

SKILLS

- Brutal
This Unit's Melee weapons gain Brutal 1 (BRU1).
- Duty Before Death
When this Unit reaches 0 HIT, it may perform one free basic or mission action before losing its last HIT. That action must be 1 ACT or less.
- Grav Belt
This Unit's Heavy weapons don't limit its movement and it can move normally.
- Grenade
Select one spot on the battlefield visible to and within 6" of this Unit. Inflict 2 Damage to all Units and Items Adjacent to that spot. This Unit may perform this Action up to once per Turn. This Unit cannot perform this Action while Adjacent to enemy Units.
- Jump Pack
This Unit ignores vertical distance when climbing up or down terrain.
- Leader 2
This Unit gains +1 HIT, +1 RSK, +1 MSK, and Leader 2: While this Unit is Standing, you may roll an additional 2 dice to determine Tactical Orders every turn.
- Medpack
Select either this Unit or an Adjacent Squadmate. That selected Unit recovers 1D3 lost HIT. This Unit cannot perform this action if this Unit or the selected Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units. This Unit may perform this Action up to once per Turn.
- Relay Order
This unit may spend 1 ACT to issue an order to a SquadMate in its Line of Sight. That SquadMate immediately performs a Free Basic Action, then this unit's activation is resumed. This Unit cannot perform this action if this Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Smoke Bomb
This Unit carries a Smoke Grenade. Once per mission, this Unit may throw its Smoke Grenade by placing a Smoke token up to 6" away from it and within its Line Of Sight. Until the end of the Turn, a cylinder of Smoke occupies that location with a radius of 2". The Smoke cylinder blocks Line Of Sight and Units that are within the Smoke cylinder cannot perform Ranged Attacks against any other Units. This Unit may not perform this action while Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Strategize
This Unit's Squad gains +1 TO.
- Technician
During each of its Activations, this Unit may perform one Mission action for 1 less ACT.

PRAXIUM CORPS

The Praxium Corps are the apex of Hegemony martial doctrine. Few in number, absolute in purpose. Each Unit is the living embodiment of a perfected combat philosophy, a human doctrine rendered in flesh and steel. Swift, precise, and impossible to withstand. They are not soldiers; they are the culmination of centuries of calculated warcraft, honed into living weapons of total compliance.

"Doctrine is the weapon. Perfection is the goal."

The Praxium Corps were not born from necessity, but from ambition, the Hegemony's vision of a flawless, modular strike force capable of executing any battlefield function without hesitation or error. Each Praxium operative represents one of six sacred Doctrines: the Aegis, Vector, Vorax, Wraith, Pillar, and Raptor — together forming a closed system of annihilation, balance, and control.

Deployed in squads no larger than four, they are the scalpel and the hammer, the proof that war can be reduced to art and art to mathematics. Their presence on a battlefield is both a symbol and a sentence; a declaration that the Hegemony's will is not to be negotiated but brutally enforced.

The Praxium Corps are bound by collective synchronization. Their movements are orchestrated by shared tactical cognition, a unified combat language that renders them eerily efficient. To witness a Praxium deployment is to see doctrine made manifest: perfect coordination, relentless precision, and the quiet certainty of inevitable victory.

SKILLS

- Aegis Aura

Each time this Unit or a Squadmate within 6" of this Unit is targeted in combat, that Squadmate may re-roll one Save die.

- Cloak

Until this Unit's next Activation, it cannot be the primary target in Ranged combat. In addition, each time it is the target of a Melee attack, it may re-roll up to 2 Save dice. This can only be done once per Mission.

- Counter

Each time this Unit is the primary target of a Melee Attack, if this Unit did not lose any HIT by the end of that Combat, it may immediately perform a Melee Attack against the original Attacker.

- Duty Before Death

When this Unit reaches 0 HIT, it may perform one free Basic or Mission Action before losing its last HIT. That action must be 1 ACT or less.

- Formation

Each time this Unit or a Squadmate within 6" of this Unit performs the Ranged or Melee combat action, that Squadmate may re-roll one Attack die.

- Grapnel

Each time this Unit climbs up, the vertical distance it moves counts for 2" less. Each time it climbs down, the vertical distance it moves counts for 4" less.

- Jump Pack Assault

Once per Turn, this Unit may move up to 10" in a straight line but must end that movement Adjacent to an enemy. Ignore vertical distance when performing this move. After this move, this Unit immediately performs a Melee Attack. This Unit may not perform this Action while Adjacent to an enemy, or if it is carrying an item (e.g. mission intel).

- Leader 2

This Unit gains +1 RSK, +1 MSK, and Leader 2: While this Unit is Standing, you may roll an additional 2 dice to determine Tactical Orders every turn.

- Scan

Once per Turn, this Unit places a Scan marker within 8". Until this Unit's next activation, all enemy Units within 6" of that Scan marker have -1 ARM.

- Shield

Each time this Unit is the target of a Melee Attack, it may choose to treat Save rolls of 1 as two successful saves instead of retaliating against the Attacker.

- Swift

Each time this Unit performs the Dash action, it costs one less ACT. This means that the first time this Unit performs a Dash in each of its Activations, it costs zero ACT.

THE SWARM

Wherever the Swarm appears, it spreads, mindlessly or with chilling coordination, until nothing remains but silence and bone. Its origin is unknown, its motives unknowable. Some believe it is an ancient weapon system gone rogue; others call it a living ecosystem without restraint. All agree on one thing: where the Swarm goes, extinction follows.

Worlds overrun by the Swarm are stripped bare. Populations vanish. Structures are hollowed out and repurposed. Swarm spores infect the soil. The sky changes. Survivors, if any, report impossible variations in creature forms as if the Swarm is adapting, experimenting, iterating across entire biospheres. Attempts at diplomacy, control, or biotechnological subversion have all failed. The Swarm does not, can not listen.

DRONE POD

A hivemind of insectoid abominations bred only to feed, the Swarm descends on worlds in an endless tide, stripping them of all life and biomass. Mindless yet coordinated, disposable yet adaptive, they are evolution weaponized - a galactic extinction event with claws, teeth, and hunger eternal.

"One claw rips. A thousand claws erase."

The Swarm doesn't strike all at once. It infiltrates first.

Drone Pods are the first wave: fast-growing, semi-autonomous drones designed to soften resistance, overwhelm defenders, and prepare the environment for mass conversion. They are not smart, but they are brutally efficient — directed by hive-echoes and biological imperatives that ripple from distant queens or nodes.

Some are specialized to tear through armor. Others spread viral mold or excrete corrosive spores. All are designed to be expendable. They are not born to win battles. They are born to open the way.

HUNTER KILLERS

This is the swarm distilled. No chatter, no excess, no sacrifice, only survival sharpened into instinct. The Hunter Killers strike with purpose: flanking prey, dismantling defenses, and leaving nothing intact. Each unit is a specialized horror: acid-veined stalkers, armored rippers, and swarm-cluster aberrations that overwhelm.

They don't overwhelm. They end things.

"We are the blade."
The Hunter Killers are apex spawn: larger, faster, and more deliberate than the chittering masses that came before. They are the survivors of failed invasions, evolved in the ash of exterminated hives. Where others overwhelm, these target, isolate, and destroy.
Each Hunter Killer is bred for brutality: claws like cleavers, acid organs, armored sinew. Some burrow. Some stalk. All feed.
They are few. But they are never alone. Each carries the will of the hive, honed into a weapon.

 Each time this Unit is the target of a Ranged Attack, it may re-roll 1 Save die.
- Leader 2
 While this Unit is Standing, you may roll an additional 2 dice to determine Tactical Orders every turn.

 - Cannot control objectives or perform Mission Actions.
- Nebulant
 Squadmates may target enemies that are Adjacent to this Unit in Ranged combat. This Unit may move through enemy Units and does not trigger Attacks of Opportunity. Each time this Unit performs the Move or Dash action, ignore vertical distance traveled.

- Pulseshriek
 All enemies within 4" of this Unit or its Squadmates must immediately move 2" directly away. This does not trigger an Attack of Opportunity. If a Unit cannot make a valid move because of wall or other obstacle, or if this move would put it closer to this Unit or its Squadmates, it takes 1 Melee Damage.

- Venomous Bonespurs
 Each time this Unit performs the Melee combat action and the primary target of that combat loses at least one HIT, that Unit must spend one additional ACT to perform the move action during its next activation.

CRIMSON SHROUD

The Crimson Shroud is a revelation, spreading across the stars like a psychic contagion. It began with the discovery of chthonic relics on forgotten worlds: impossible artifacts inscribed with whispering patterns. Those who studied them began to change. They saw through the illusions of individual will, through the boundaries of species and flesh.

They heard the Song beneath the Stars.

Now, the Shroud spreads silently as a cross-species cult of indoctrinated zealots, altered psionics, and sleeper agents. On some worlds, they wear robes and preach transcendence. On others, they move in secret, reshaping governments, implanting suggestions, turning enemies into allies without a shot fired. To outsiders, they appear fractured and decentralized. But beneath that lies unity. A single doctrine. A single rhythm. A single crimson thread binding all who surrender.

SILENT CHOIR

A cross-species cult bound by relics, rites, and the psychic resonance of forgotten gods. The Crimson Shroud spreads like a thought-virus, infiltrating worlds, turning enemies into acolytes, and unraveling reality through ritual. Their warriors do not shout or rage. They whisper, reshape, and break the mind before the body ever falls.

"They are already inside your walls. And inside your thoughts."

The Silent Choir is the Shroud's militant arm, psychic agents and ritual assassins used to neutralize resistance and purge those who cannot be turned. These squads are surgical, terrifying, and eerily calm. Their movements follow sacred geometries. Their words alter memories. Their weapons hum with ancient resonances.

Where they strike, confusion follows. Friendly fire, hallucinations, screams from minds collapsing under pressure. Their role is not just to kill, it is to unmake belief. To destroy identity. To prepare the soil for the seed.

- Dark Gaze

This Unit may not perform this Action if it is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Dissonance Shroud
 While this Unit is Standing, this Unit and all its Squadmates may reroll 1 Save die when they are the target of Ranged Combat.
- Fate Shift
 While this Unit is Standing, you may reroll one Tactical Order die at the start of each Turn.

- Pain Exalted
 Select one Squadmate within 6" of this Unit. That Unit regains 1 HIT and immediately performs a free Basic or Mission action. This can only be done once per Mission. This Unit may not perform this Action if it is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Relic Lash
 This Unit's Relic Blade gains Rending 1.
- Silent Choir
 This Unit gains +1 ATT on its Melee weapons whenever its Leader is in its Line of Sight.
- Swift
 Each time this Unit performs the Dash action, it costs one less ACT. This means that the first time this Unit performs a Dash in each of its Activations, it costs zero ACT.
- The Face Of Truth
 All Adjacent enemy Units must move 2" directly away from this Unit (this does not trigger an Attack of Opportunity). If an enemy Unit cannot move in that direction, inflict 1 Melee Damage on that enemy Unit instead.

OUTER CLAIM

The Outer Claim is not a single empire or culture. It is a resurgence of lost bloodlines, forgotten worlds, and shattered civilizations drifting inward from the galactic fringe. These clades were abandoned long ago, cut off from the Hegemony in the ages since its rise. Some degenerated into tribal warbands. Others adapted. Others... changed. Now, they return.

The Hegemony calls them raiders. Pirates. Terror cells. But to the Claimants, they are the rightful inheritors of the galaxy. They remember the betrayal. They remember being left behind. And they've spent generations adapting biologically, technologically, and spiritually to survive the void. Their warbands are a mix of species, tech levels, and ideologies. Some come to conquer. Others come to warn. But none come in peace. And in the silence between the stars, rumors spread of something vast stirring in the outer dark; something that drives the Claimants inward. Whether they flee it or serve it, none can say, but some whisper a name the Hegemony has tried to hide: the Heliophague.

CLAIMANT WARBAND

Once-abandoned worlds now surge coreward, bearing the scars of exile and the fire of reclamation. The Claimant Warbands are fractured remnants of forgotten colonies, mutant clades, and survivalist tribes, united only by the belief that the galaxy owes them a debt. They strike without warning, vanish without trace, and fight as if the stars themselves are contested ground.

"We carry old debts in new blood."
Claimant squads are ragged, improvised, and brutally effective. They fight dirty, ambushing from asteroid cover, hijacking orbital infrastructure, pillaging peaceful colonies, using semi-sapient machines as living shields. What they lack in polish, they make up for in sheer unpredictability.
Each warband is different: a mix of ancient relics, mutated biology, and stolen gear. They are bound by necessity, oath, or vengeance. Their cohesion is fluid. Their tactics brutal. But when they move, they move as one.

SKILLS

- Accelerator Membrane
This Unit gains +1 ACT (maximum 3).
- Bladesmith
This Unit's Melee weapon gains +1 SKL.
- Call of the Ancestors
Until the end of the Turn, all Units in this Squad gain +1 ATT on their Melee weapons. This can only be done once per mission.
- Grenade
Select one spot on the battlefield visible to and within 6" of this Unit. Inflict 2 Damage to all Units and Items Adjacent to that spot.
This Unit may only perform this Action once per mission. This Unit cannot perform this Action while Adjacent to enemy Units.
- Imposing
Each time this Unit is the target of a Melee Attack, the Attacker does not get any support modifiers from its Adjacent Squadmates.
- Jet Pack
Once per Mission, this unit may spend 2 ACT to move up to 10" in a straight line (orthogonal or diagonal), ignoring vertical movement and difficult terrain. This Unit may not perform this Action while Adjacent to an enemy, or if it is carrying an item (e.g. mission intel).
- Leader 2
While this Unit is Standing, you may roll an additional 2 dice to determine Tactical Orders every turn.
- Medpack
Select either this Unit or an Adjacent Squadmate. That selected Unit recovers 103 lost HIT. This Unit cannot perform this action if this Unit or the selected Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units. This Unit may perform this Action up to once per Turn.
- Protect The Kin
One time per Turn, when a Squadmate of this Unit within 6" goes to 0 HIT, roll 1D6. On a 2 or lower, that Squadmate is not Taken Out and has 1 HIT remaining.
- Push
Target an adjacent enemy. Inflict 2 Damage on that enemy, then move that enemy up to 4" in any one direction (this does not trigger an Attack of Opportunity). If this causes the enemy to fall off terrain, it takes Damage equal to vertical distance it fell in inches, divided by 2.
- Relay Order
This unit may spend 1 ACT to issue an order to a SquadMate in its Line of Sight. That SquadMate immediately performs a Free Basic Action, then this unit's activation is resumed. This Unit cannot perform this action if this Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Scanner
Until the end of the Turn, enemy Units do not benefit from Cover
- Strategize
This Unit's Squad gains +1 TD.
- Take 'Em Down
Target one Enemy. This Unit and all its SquadMates immediately perform a Free Ranged or Melee attack against that Enemy if it is a valid target. This can only be done once per mission
- Technician
During each of its Activations, this Unit may perform one Mission action for 1 less ACT.
- Vengeful
Each time this Unit performs a Combat action, it may reroll a number of attack dice equal to the number of Squadmates that have been Taken Out (max 3).

DESPOILERS

Forged in centuries of blood-feuds, death-hunts, and planetary collapse, Despoiler squads are violent killers who revel in terror, trophy-taking, and the destruction of symbols: banners, idols, cities, bodies. To the Despoilers, annihilation is truth. And truth must be loud.

"Glory's just a prettier word for taking what ain't nailed down."

Despoilers are the brutal marauders: not just killers, but ritual desecrators. They don't fight for land or legacy. They fight to shatter, to spite, to leave scars so deep they echo across generations.

Each squad is a riot of brutal craftsmanship: rusted cleavers strung with trophies, void-hardened muscles, and armor painted with blood rites and hallucinogenic dyes. They scream prayers as they charge. They mock as they maim. Some wear the bones of those who tried to pacify their kind centuries ago.

They specialize in shock assaults, overkill, and post-battle humiliation. To be marked by the Despoilers is not just to lose — it is to be ruined.

EIDOLON REVENANTS

The Eidolon empire once spanned half the known galaxy, a dynasty of god-kings, logic-oracles, and celestial warforms who ruled through ritual, decree, and incomprehensible science. But time is a slow poison. Complacency took root. Traditions ossified. Innovation became heresy. Entire star-clades turned inward, forgetting conquest for introspection, empire for ceremony.

Yet even in decay, the Revenants remain vast. Their fleets drift in the void. Their rites still hold power. Their dominion may have rotted at the edges, but their core endures, mysterious, immortal, and quietly enraged.

Now, as the galaxy fractures once more, the Eidolon Revenants begin to stir. Not as one, but as many. Splintered claimants rise: would-be emperors, seer-priests, and rogue war-matriarchs each declaring themselves heir to the Throne Astral.

They do not agree on the future, but they agree on this: the galaxy was theirs, and will be again.

RELICT WARDENS

Ancient rulers whose dominion never truly ended, only faded beneath ritual and decay. The Eidolon Revenants are a fractured, immortal aristocracy whose starborn dynasties still command relic armies and reality-bending technologies. Splintered by time, they now rise again, each Scion seeking to restore the empire that once bound the galaxy in its ghostly grip.

"The past is the strongest weapon. We carry it in every gesture."

The Relict Wardens are the Revenants' shock-troops: ghostlike warriors clad in psionically-activated exo-armor. They do not speak. They do not run. They march in geometric formations older than language, carrying weapons shaped by will and memory.

Their presence distorts light. Their movements follow celestial alignments. Some say they are projections, echoes of ancient battles still playing out. Others say they are deathless, their minds distributed across timefolded memory-cores.

They appear where the Revenants reassert control: lost temples, vault-worlds, alien monoliths, derelict thrones.

GRUTAK

The Grutak are belligerent, brawling spawn of shattered worlds: a species bred by war, for war, through war. Equal parts brute and genius, they build crude yet brutally effective weapons from scrap and ruin, driven by instinct more than doctrine. Their society values strength, noise, and action above all. Clans gather around the loudest warlords, their loyalty held together by the promise of battle and the sound of things exploding. Grutak don't fight for territory or ideology; they fight because fighting is what they're for.

KRUMPFISTS

Elite(ish) shock troops of the Grutak warclans, "promoted" by surviving the loudest battles. Krumpfists are deployed for missions that require things to get messy, fast: they breach, brawl, and leave the rest in flames.

"Subtlety's for things you don't want dead."

The Grutak Krumpfists are the blunt instruments of a species that doesn't believe in finesse. Formed from the loudest survivors of the loudest battles, Krumpfists are fielded when the warboss wants something wrecked quickly. They're not infiltrators in the traditional sense, they just arrive faster and louder than the main horde, using explosives, brute strength, and improvised tactics to rip open enemy lines.

Their loyalty lies with whomever shouts the hardest and carries the biggest scrap-blade. Coordination is rare, but when one charges, the rest follow just because no one wants to miss the fun.

They break things. They don't ask why.
