

RUINSTARS

Squad Operations In A Dying Galaxy

Version 20251018

RUINSTARS

1. INTRODUCTION

THE GALAXY IS IN RUINS

The stars are dying, the gods are silent, and the empires that once ruled the galaxy have crumbled into ash and echoes.

Across a fractured void of decaying worlds and haunted relics, scattered fireteams carry out the final orders of long-dead masters.

There is no hope of victory - only duty and the bitter certainty that each mission may be the last.

In the shadows of ancient horrors and cursed machines, elite squads wage desperate black ops in a war that has lost all meaning... but not all purpose.

Welcome to Ruinstars - where only ruins remain, and only war endures.

WHAT IS THIS GAME?

Ruinstars is an open-source, fast-paced, miniatures-agnostic tabletop skirmish game set during the final age of the galaxy.

Players command small, hardened squads in high-lethality black ops missions across fractured star systems.

Fight in the shadows of dying gods, decaying empires, and forgotten horrors as the last battles rage.

GETTING STARTED

1. Download the Rules(or Printer-Friendly Version)
2. Select your Faction
3. Build your Squads
4. Gather some dice (D6), your miniatures, and tokens
5. Play your first Mission!

NOTE ON USE OF AI

Ruinstars is still in beta and includes select concept art and visuals generated with the aid of AI image tools. While these assets support visual development and thematic exploration, they are not final and all images will be replaced with art created by actual artists by the time the game is released.

2. CORE MECHANICS

DICE ROLLS

Ruinstars uses 6-sided dice for all rolls. These will be indicated throughout the rules as D6.

Some rolls will require more than one die. For those, the number of dice to roll will be indicated before D6.

For example, to indicate a roll of 3 dice: 3D6. To indicate a roll of 1 die: 1D6.

SUCCESSSES AND FAILURES

When rolling against a character or weapon stat, a die roll is a success if its value is equal to or lower than that stat.

Irrespective of any modifiers or Stats, a die roll of 6 is always a failure.

Die rolls of 1 are always Critical successes and may have special effects depending on the roll in question (see Combat).

RE-ROLLS

Certain rules and events allow you to re-roll a die. In those cases, announce the die to be re-rolled, pick it up, and roll it again. Once a die is re-rolled, its result is final and it cannot be re-rolled again.

ALTERNATING ACTIVATIONS

During each Turn, Squads take turns Activating one Unit that has not yet been activated. For example, during each Turn:

- Squad A activates its first Unit and performs Actions
- Squad B activates its first Unit and performs Actions
- Squad A activates its second Unit and performs Actions
- Squad B activates its second Unit and performs Actions
- etc.

Once per Turn, if a Squad has fewer Standing Units than its opponent, it may choose to delay its next Activation. In this case, the Squad with more Standing Units activates its next Unit instead, then alternating Activations resume normally.

3. GAME CYCLE

A game of Ruinstars is played in the following order:

1. Mission Start

1. Select Mission

Select a Mission to play. All players must reach consensus on the Mission to play.

2. Select Squad

Select one of your Squads to take on the Mission

3. Prepare Battlefield

Set up your Battlefield according to the Mission's briefing. This includes placing buildings and other terrain features, placing objectives, and any other actions defined by the selected Mission.

4. Deploy Units

Follow the Mission's briefing to deploy your Units. If both teams "deploy before Turn 1", players take turns placing one Unit at a time on the Battlefield, starting with the player who has the initiative in Turn 1.

2. Turns

Missions in Ruinstars generally last 4 Turns (see below).

3. Mission End

At the end of Turn 4, tally the total Mission Points for each Squad. The Squad with the highest number of Mission Points is declared the winner of the battle.

Note that some missions (most commonly Scripted Operations) have victory conditions that are not dependent on MPs; in those cases just follow the mission briefing to determine the winner.

URNS

During each Turn:

1. Reset Tactical Orders to zero for both Squads. Tactical Orders do not carry over from Turn to Turn.
2. Start of Turn
 1. Mark all Units as Ready (not Activated)
 2. Resolve all "Start of Turn" actions or events
 3. Roll-off for Initiative. Lowest roll wins Initiative and will Activate first.
 4. Roll for Tactical Orders for the Turn

5. The Squad with the Initiative rolls for the Battlefield's Events (if any) for this Turn

3. Unit activations

1. The Squad with the Initiative activates their first Unit, then Squads alternate activating their Units until all Units have been activated.

See also Alternating Activations.

4. End Of Turn

1. Resolve all "End of Turn" actions or events
2. Score Mission Points according to the selected Mission

ALTERNATING ACTIVATIONS

Ruinstars uses Alternating Activations:

During each turn, players take alternating turns to Activate their Squad's Units. So player 1 activates their first Unit, then player 2 activates their first Unit, followed by player 1 activating their second Unit etc. This ensures dynamic play and avoids having to wait long periods of time before you can actually do something with your Squad.

Each player takes alternating turns activating the Units in their Squad. For example, in order:

1. Player 1 activates their first Unit
2. Player 2 activates their first Unit
3. Player 1 activates their second Unit
4. Player 2 activates their second Unit
5. (etc)

At the start of each Turn, all Units are marked as "Ready". As each Unit completes their Activation, they are marked as "Activated".

In cases where one Squad has at least 2 more Standing Units than the other, the Squad with fewer Units may choose to delay one activation once per Turn. In that case, the Squad with more Units activates two of its Units in a row.

MISSION POINTS

Mission Points (MP) determine the winner of the battle. Each Mission will define conditions under which a Squad can score Mission Points. At the end of the Mission, the Squad with the most MP wins.

4. STAT CARDS

StatCards describe your Units and their Weapons with numerical values, and any special Skills they may have. In general, the higher the stat number, the better the Unit or Weapon.

Note that in the app and on the website, you can click or tap Specials to view what they mean, and Skills or Equipment to get their full description.

1. TOLAND STRAK

ACT 3	ARM 4	HIT 5
WEAPONS		ATT	SKL
 Combat Knife (2MC) ^{1GP}		2	4
 Reaper (2RC) ^{5GP}		4	5
SKILLS
Leader 2*		Strategize* (1 ACT)
SQUAD SPECIALTY
Duty Before Death
Duty Before Death: When this Unit reaches 0 HIT, it may perform one free basic or mission action before being removed from the battlefield. That action must be 1 ACT or less.
Leader 2: This Unit gains +1 HIT, +1 RSK, +1 MSK, and Leader 2: While this Unit is Standing, you may roll an additional 2 dice to determine Tactical Orders every turn.
Strategize (1ACT): This Unit's Squad gains +1 TO.
Strike Trooper 13+6GP
		 0 XP

UNIT STATS

- ACT - Action Points
The maximum number of Action Points this Unit can spend on Actions during its activation.
- ARM - Armor
Indicates how well this Unit resists damage during combat.
When rolling Armor Saves, results of this stat or lower are successful.
- HIT - Hit Points
The Unit's number of Hit Points. When a Unit reaches zero HIT, it is Taken Out and removed from the battlefield (see Combat).
If a Unit has at least 1 HIT remaining, it is considered to be Standing.
- GP - Gear Points
The total cost in Gear Points (GP) for this Unit.

Note that in the app and on the website, each special (e.g. 2RC) and skill (e.g. "Duty Before Death") can be clicked or tapped to view their detailed description.

For example:

- Toland Strak is a Strike Trooper
- He can perform 3 Actions (ACT) during each of his activations.
- Each time he is the target of Combat and rolls Armor Saves, each result of 4 or less (ARM) is a successful Save.
- He starts with 5 Hit Points (HIT).
- He has the skill Duty Before Death.

WEAPON STATS

-   - Weapon Type
 indicates a Melee weapon,  indicates a Ranged weapon.
- ATT - Attacks
How many Dice are rolled each time this Weapon is used.
- SKL - Skill
Indicates the skill of this Unit when using this Weapon. Rolls that are equal to or less than this value are successful strikes.
- (SPECIAL) - Weapon Specials
Specials for this weapon are listed next to its name. In the app and on the website, click or tap on them to read their full description. Don't worry about remembering the codes; they will quickly become second nature to you.

For example:

- Toland Strak's Reaper is a Ranged weapon ().
- Each time it is used, Toland Strak rolls 4 dice (ATT).
- Each result of 5 or less (SKL) is a success.

SKILLS

Some Units will have Skills listed on their StatCard. These are unique properties of that Unit that may allow them to perform a specific unique Action, or gain a bonus (or debuff) for certain game mechanics.

- Skills that have an ACT cost can be performed using the Unit's ACT Stat or a Tactical Order, or a combination of both.
- Skills that have a TO cost cannot be performed using the Unit's ACT Stat; they must be performed by spending Tactical Orders.
- Skills and Equipment that do not have an ACT or TO cost are passive skills that do not require spending an Action Point or Tactical Order.

5. ACTIONS

During its activation, a Unit can perform a number of Actions up to its ACT stat (see StatCards).

Each Action costs a number of Action Points or ACT.

Actions with an ACT cost can be performed by spending the Unit's ACT Action Points or the Squad's Tactical Orders, or any combination of the two (for example, if a Unit's skill costs 2 ACT, you can spend 1 ACT + 1 TO to perform that action).

Actions with a TO cost can only be performed by spending the Squad's Tactical Orders.

Each action costs its listed number of ACT the first time it is performed in a Unit's Activation. Each time that same action is repeated in the same Activation, it costs one additional ACT.

For example, a Unit with 3 ACT may perform 2 Moves in its Activation. The first Move costs 1 ACT, and the second one costs 2 ACT.

BASIC ACTIONS

All Units can perform the following Actions during their Activation:

Action	ACT	Description
Move	1	The Unit moves up to 3 Paces.
Dash	1	The Unit moves up to 1 Pace. This movement follows the same rules as a normal Move .
Ranged Combat	1	The Unit makes a Ranged attack against a valid target. See Ranged Combat .
Melee Combat	1	The Unit makes a Melee attack against an Adjacent target. See Melee Combat .
Pick Up	1	The Unit picks up an Adjacent marker or token.
Drop	1	The Unit drops a marker or token it is carrying in a position Adjacent to the Unit.
Give	1	The Unit passes a marker or token to an Adjacent Squadmate. The Unit cannot perform this Action if either Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
Open/Close Door	1	The Unit opens or closes an Adjacent door.
Mission Action	-	Mission Actions are special mission-specific Actions that can be performed according to the Mission Briefing.

MISSION ACTIONS

Certain Missions will define special Actions that can be performed by Units. Read the Mission Briefing to determine if the Mission defines any such Actions.

TACTICAL ORDERS

At the start of each Turn, players roll for Tactical Orders (TO). Each roll of 1-3 is a success and give that Squad 1 TO. The number of dice to roll is:

- Base: 3D6. All Squads roll at least 3 dice for Tactical Orders.
- Leader: If the Squad's Leader is still Standing, add 1 die for its Leader skill (e.g. "Leader 2" means roll an additional 2 dice for Tactical Orders, for a total of 5).
- Taken Out: For each Unit that was Taken Out during the Mission, the player may re-roll 1 Tactical Order die (e.g. if 2 Units were Taken Out, the player may re-roll up to 2 Tactical Order dice).

At the end of each Turn, any unused Tactical Orders are lost; they do not carry over to the following Turn.

Note that rolling for Tactical Orders cannot be modified by using Tactical Orders.

USING TACTICAL ORDERS

Tactical Orders may be spent to:

- Perform a Unit's TO Skill. Unless otherwise indicated, TO skills cannot be performed more than once per Turn
- Perform an Additional Basic or Mission Action during a Unit's Activation.
- Re-roll any one die for any of your rolls (including during one of your opponent's Units' Activations, for example during Melee combat).
- Change the result of one of your rolled dice by +/- 1. Note that this is stackable; you can spend 2 TO to reduce the result of a die by 2, or spend multiple TO on multiple dice in a given roll. Modifying a die roll in this way does not trigger roll-specific effects (e.g. reducing an Attack die roll of 2 to 1 does not mean it is a Critical success).

6. MOVEMENT

BATTLEFIELD

The Battlefield is typically 2' by 2', or 60cm x 60cm. All movement and distance/range measurements are done by counting Paces.

You can bring your own battlefield, or use our print-at-home Battlefields with the tiles and Paces pre-marked.

If you prefer to play with a grid, see Playing on a Grid for details.

TILES

The Battlefield is divided into 9 equal Tiles, each being 5x5 Paces (8" or 20cm to a side). Some missions may describe their setup in terms of a Tile's position (e.g. "Western Tile", "Center Tile", "SouthEast Tile"). Before the mission, both players should agree which way is North on the Battlefield, then refer to this diagram to find the right Tile.

PACES

All movement and distance measurements are measured in Paces.

A Pace is 40mm or about 1.5". Use a ruler, or use our print-at-home Gauges for quick measurement. If you prefer, playing on a grid provides simplicity of movement and measurement and avoids imprecision in moving miniatures and checking weapon ranges.

MOVEMENT

When a Unit performs a Move Action, the maximum distance it can travel is 3 Paces. Movement should be made in increments of 1 Pace. If a Unit wants to move in one direction for less than 1 Pace, it still counts as 1 Pace.

A Unit may not move in a way that would require its base to cover an enemy Unit's base at any point in the movement.

ADJACENT

Two Units or Items are considered to be Adjacent if:

- The closest edges of their bases are within 1 Pace of each other,
- They are on the same elevation, and
- There is no wall between them.

ATTACK OF OPPORTUNITY

When a Unit Moves or Dashes out of Adjacency to an enemy Unit, that enemy may immediately perform a free Melee attack against the moving Unit. This is called an Attack of Opportunity.

If the moving Unit is Adjacent to multiple enemies, only one of those enemies may perform an Attack of Opportunity, though they still get support in the Melee Combat Action.

The moving Unit may choose to spend some or all of its remaining movement Paces to blunt the attack. For each Pace of movement it spends in this way, reduce the number of attack dice the enemy rolls (the weapon's ATT stat) by 1.

Each Unit can perform only one Attack of Opportunity per Turn.

DISTANCES AND RANGE

To measure the distance between two Units or Items (for example, to check if a target is within the Range of a given Ranged Weapon), only measure on the Horizontal plane; ignore vertical distance.

The target is considered to be in range of that weapon if the distance in Paces is equal to or lower than the weapon's range.

If a Ranged weapon does not have a specified Range (RNGx), its range is infinite.

The soldier has a Ranged weapon with a range of 3 Paces (RNG3). The bugs marked in green are within range, while the bugs marked in red are out of range.

VERTICAL MOVEMENT

Climbing up vertical terrain costs 1 Pace per vertical Pace, plus 1 Pace for the horizontal direction desired.

Note that for a Unit to climb a wall, that wall must be mutually agreed by all players to be Climbable at the start of the battle. Generally these walls will be easily identifiable with a ladder or other visual marker indicating it is climbable.

Climbing down a wall follows the same rules as climbing up, but vertical movement costs 1 less Pace.

7. COMBAT

RANGED COMBAT

SEQUENCE

1. Select Target

- The Attacker selects one of their Ranged weapons to use
 - The Attacker selects a valid Target. The Target must:
 - Not be Adjacent to the Attacker or the Attacker's Squadmates
 - Be within the Weapon's range (RNGx)
 - Be in the Attacker's Line Of Sight
- A Unit may not perform this action if it is Adjacent to any enemy Units.

2. Roll Attacks

- Roll a number of dice equal to the weapon's ATT (Attacks).
- Each die result equal to or less than the weapon's SKL (Skill) is a successful strike and inflicts 1 point of Damage on the Target.
 - A roll of 1 is a Critical Strike and inflicts 2 points of Damage
 - A roll of 6 is always a failure

3. Roll Armor Saves

- The Target rolls one die per point of Damage inflicted.
- Each result equal to or less than the Target's ARM (Armor) is a successful Save.
 - A roll of 1 is a Critical Save and counts as 2 Saves
 - A roll of 6 is always a failure
- Each unsaved point of Damage causes the Target to lose 1 HIT
- If a Unit reaches zero HIT, it is Taken Out and removed from the battlefield.

MODIFIERS

Condition	Description
Cover	If the Target is in cover , the Target gets one automatic Armor Save (without having to roll it)
High Ground	If the Attacker is at least 2 Paces higher than its Target, the Target does not benefit from Cover

LINE OF SIGHT

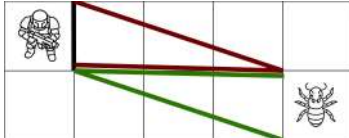

A Target is said to be in an Attacker's Line of Sight if two uninterrupted lines can be drawn from one of the point of the Attacker's base to two opposite edges of the Target's base.

A Unit cannot target an enemy Unit for Ranged Combat if there are other Units on that Line of Sight (i.e. a Unit cannot shoot "through" other Units).

SPECIAL CASES

These rules mean that in some cases, a Unit may be able to target an enemy Unit even if that Unit cannot target them in return.

The soldier may target the Bug in Ranged Combat, but the Bug may not target the soldier because the two lines to the Soldier's base are blocked by a wall.

COVER

If a Target is only partially visible to the Attacker (for example, there is a short wall between the two Units), that Target is said to be in cover. Cover only applies to Ranged attacks; there is no Cover benefit for Melee attacks.

A Target is in Cover if a piece of terrain blocks the Attacker's full view of the Target and that terrain is within 1 Pace of the Target.

The bug marked C is in Cover. The bug marked NC is not in Cover because the wall is not within 1 Pace of the Target.

MELEE COMBAT

SEQUENCE

1. Select Target

- The Attacker selects one of their Melee weapons to use
- The Target must be Adjacent to the Attacker

2. Roll Attacks

- Roll a number of dice equal to the weapon's ATT (Attacks).
- Each die result equal to or less than the weapon's SKL (Skill) is a successful strike and inflicts 1 point of Damage on the Target.
 - A roll of 1 is a Critical Strike and inflicts 2 points of Damage
 - A roll of 6 is always a failure

3. Roll Armor Saves

- The Target rolls one die per point of Damage inflicted.
- Each result equal to or less than the Target's ARM (Armor) is a successful Save.
 - A roll of 1 is a Critical Save:
 - It blocks 1 point of Damage, and
 - Inflicts 1 point of Melee Damage on the Attacker. The Attacker then rolls their own Armor Saves for that returned Damage.
 - This effect can chain: if the Attacker then rolls a Critical Save, they return damage to the Target, and so on.
 - A roll of 6 is always a failure
- Each unsaved point of Damage causes the Target to lose 1 HIT
- If a Unit reaches zero HIT, it is Taken Out and removed from the battlefield.

MODIFIERS

Condition	Description
Support	For each of the Attacker's Squadmates Adjacent to the Target, the Attacker may re-roll one Attack die.

ATTACK OF OPPORTUNITY

When a Unit Moves or Dashes out of Adjacency to an enemy Unit, that enemy may immediately perform a free Melee attack against the moving Unit. This is called an Attack of Opportunity.

If the moving Unit is Adjacent to multiple enemies, only one of those enemies may perform an Attack of Opportunity, though they still get support in the Melee Combat Action.

The moving Unit may choose to spend some or all of its remaining movement Paces to blunt the attack. For each Pace of movement it spends in this way, reduce the number of attack dice the enemy rolls (the weapon's ATT stat) by 1.

Each Unit can perform only one Attack of Opportunity per Turn.

8. ITEMS

You may choose to add items to the battlefield that have special purposes and behaviors, and some missions may require the placement of items.

PLACEMENT

To place items randomly on the battlefield, players take turns rolling for random placement.

For each item to be placed:

- Roll 1D10 to determine which Tile to place the item on. On a roll of 10, the player chooses which Tile to place the item on.
- Roll 1D6 to determine the X coordinate (in Paces) within that Tile to place the item on. On a roll of 6, the player chooses which coordinate to place the item on.
- Roll 1D6 to determine the Y coordinate (in Paces) within that Tile to place the item on. On a roll of 6, the player chooses which coordinate to place the item on.

CRATES

If you choose to play with Crates, randomly place 4 Crates on the battlefield. To open a crate, a Unit must be Adjacent to the crate and spend 1 ACT to open it. This counts as a Mission action. When opened, roll 1D6 to determine the contents of that Crate, then remove it from the Battlefield:

1. TO: The Unit's Squad immediately gains 1 Tactical Order.
 2. Stims: The Unit may immediately perform a free Basic or Mission Action.
 3. Map: The Unit or one of its Squadmates may immediately perform a free Move Action.
 4. MedPack: The Unit gains a MedPack. This MedPack can be used for 1 ACT during any of this Unit's activations. When used, the Unit or an Adjacent Squadmate regains 1D3 lost HIT. The MedPack may not be used if this Unit or the selected Squadmate are Adjacent to any Enemy Units. Once used, remove the MedPack from the Unit.
 5. Nothing: The Crate is empty, nothing happens.
 6. Booby Trap: The crate explodes, dealing 2 Ranged Damage to all Adjacent Units and Items.

BARRELS

Barrels are explosive containers that can be attacked, causing an explosion.

If you choose to play with Barrels, randomly place 5 Barrels on the battlefield.

Barrels may be attacked in Ranged or Melee combat. The Barrel is a Unit that cannot roll Armor Saves; if it is attacked in combat and at least one strike is successful, it explodes. When a Barrel explodes, it causes an explosion dealing 2 Ranged Damage to all Adjacent Units and Items, then it is removed from the Battlefield.

9. YOUR SQUAD

Select the SquadType that best fits the way you want to play and build your squad using the App. Squads are typically built with a maximum value of 100 total GP (including all unit and gear costs).

Your Squad can only include one Leader, and it cannot include more than 1 of each Unique Unit (marked with an asterisk *).

When selecting Gear for your Squad (Weapons, Equipment, etc), any item whose name ends with an asterisk (*) is Unique and cannot be added more than once to your squad.

Refer to the end of this rule book for the complete list of factions, SquadTypes, Units, and Gear.

10. MISSIONS

TACTICAL ENGAGEMENTS ACROSS A GALAXY IN RUINS

"We once believed war would end when the stars themselves dimmed. We were wrong. The stars are gone, and still we fight over scraps of metal, over relics of dead gods, over the idea that any of this still matters.

Every mission you read in this record was real once. Squads bled for these orders. Some triumphed and carved their marks into the ruins; others vanished beneath the dust of worlds that no longer have names.

If you are holding this field manual, you are part of what remains. Learn these operations well. Out there, knowing which ruin to hold (or which to burn) means the difference between survival and extinction."

Excerpt from the Warfront Archives, Cycle 2279.6

Across the shattered frontier of the galaxy, war is constant. Squads of elite operatives clash in the ruins of cities, alien jungles, desecrated temples, and endless wastelands, each battle a fleeting spark in the dark expanse of the Ruinstars. These are not grand crusades of empire, but desperate struggles fought by the few who dare to step onto the battlefield when hope has long since burned away.

This book collects the missions, battlefields, and scripted operations that define warfare in the Ruinstars setting. Within these pages, commanders will find everything they need to wage battle, from quick-play engagements and solo challenges to full three-part operations and sprawling, multi-stage campaigns. Every victory and defeat shapes the next confrontation; every decision carries the weight of survival.

Each mission offers unique tactical puzzles and narrative flavor, challenging you to adapt your strategy to shifting objectives and hostile environments. Scripted Operations weave these battles into connected arcs: mini-campaigns that tell stories of ambition, corruption, and sacrifice. Whether you fight for the glory of the Human Hegemony, the zeal of the Sanctified Legion, the hunger of the Swarm, or the whispers of the Silent Choir, every operation offers a chance to carve your name into the scars of the galaxy.

PLAYING A MISSION

A Mission is a single battle played between two (or more) Squads.

Whether you are playing a quick one-off mission or a long, epic campaign, the rules for playing each Mission are the same:

1. Select a Primary Mission
2. Select a Battlefield
3. Set up your Squads
4. Play!

PRIMARY MISSIONS

Primary missions are perfect for pick-up or competitive play. You can also use these missions to build your own campaign.

Each Primary mission is a single battle pitting your Squad against its enemies. Select (or randomly pick) a Mission from the list of standard missions below:

1 - ERADICATE

"No mercy. No survivors."

The battlefield is a crucible of war, where only the strongest will remain standing. Smoke rises from shattered ruins, and the air is thick with the acrid scent of plasma burns. No objectives. No negotiations. Only death. Each squad knows that by the end of this conflict, only one will be left standing, while the other will be nothing but a memory.

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone.

DEPLOYMENT

During Turn 1, when it is a Unit's turn to activate, deploy it on your Battlefield edge.

VICTORY

At the end of Turn 4, if a Squad Took Out all enemy units, that Squad scores 6 MP. In all other cases, the Mission is a Draw.

2 - DEFEND

"Hold the line until help arrives - or die trying."

A beleaguered squad finds itself cornered, their backs against the wall as enemy forces close in from all sides. Their only hope: surviving long enough for extraction. The air crackles with tension as enemy shadows move through the ruins, searching for weaknesses in the defenses. Every second counts. Every bullet fired could be the last. If they falter, they will be wiped out. If they endure, they will live to fight another day.

SETUP

Set up terrain so that the central tile is at least half enclosed. This is the Defense area.

Select or randomly pick one Squad to be the Attacker, and the other to be the Defender.

DEPLOYMENT

Defender deploys all their Units before Turn 1 in the center tile.

Attacker deploys all their Units before Turn 1 on any Battlefield edge.

VICTORY

At the end of Turn 4, each Squad adds up the remaining HIT of Standing Units on the central tile. The Squad with the highest total scores 6 MP. In case of a tie, the Defender scores 6 MP.

3 - SABOTAGE

"Cut them off at the source."

Deep behind enemy lines, a squad is tasked with crippling vital infrastructure. Fuel lines, power grids, and command centers must be neutralized before reinforcements arrive. Every step is fraught with danger - enemy patrols scour the area, drones sweep the perimeter, and time is running out. Stealth and precision will ensure success, but failure means a swift and brutal counterattack.

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone.

Place 3 Sabotage markers in the center of three random tiles.

Select or randomly pick one Squad to be the Attacker, and the other to be the Defender.

DEPLOYMENT

During Turn 1, when it is a Unit's turn to activate, deploy it on your Battlefield edge.

VICTORY

The Attacker Squad scores 2 MP for each marker that has been sabotaged by the end of Turn 4.

The Defender Squad scores 2 MP for each marker that was not sabotaged by the end of Turn 4.

SPECIAL

Sabotage (2 ACT): A Unit may Sabotage an Adjacent Sabotage marker if there are not Adjacent enemy Units. When a marker is sabotaged, remove it from the battlefield.

4 - RETRIEVE INTEL

"Secrets win wars. Get in, get out."

Somewhere in the heart of the battlefield lies a critical piece of intelligence - data that could shift the balance of power. One squad races to retrieve it, while the other fights to keep it from falling into enemy hands. The clock is ticking. One wrong move could mean the difference between victory and disaster. In the chaos of battle, can the attackers escape with the prize, or will the defenders crush their ambitions before they reach safety?

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone.

Place an Intel marker in the center of the central tile.

Select or randomly pick one Squad to be the Attacker, and the other to be the Defender.

DEPLOYMENT

During Turn 1, when it is a Unit's turn to activate, deploy it on your Battlefield edge.

VICTORY

The Attacker Squad score 6 MP when a Unit carrying the Intel marker walks off the edge of the Battlefield opposite the Attacker's deployment edge by the end of Turn 4.

The Defender Squad wins the mission in all other cases.

5 - ASSASSINATE

"Cut off the head, and the body dies."

Every army has a leader, a figure who commands, inspires, and ensures victory. Without them, morale crumbles and cohesion shatters. One squad has been given a singular, deadly mission: eliminate the enemy commander at all costs. But this will not be easy - the target is well-guarded, and their forces will fight to the last breath to protect them. Strike fast, strike true, and end this war with a single, decisive kill.

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone.

DEPLOYMENT

During Turn 1, when it is a Unit's turn to activate, deploy it on your Battlefield edge.

VICTORY

The first Squad to Take Out the enemy Leader scores 6 MP if it happens before the end of Turn 4.

6 - CONTROL

"Seize the ground. Own the fight."

Key strategic locations are up for grabs, and both squads are determined to claim them. These positions may be artillery nests, communication hubs, or tactical vantage points - whoever controls them controls the battlefield. Explosions send shockwaves through the war-torn streets as both sides fight tooth and nail, knowing that every inch gained is another step toward ultimate victory.

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone. Place 3 Objective markers in the center of the West, Central, and East tiles.

DEPLOYMENT

Both Squads deploy their Units on their selected Battlefield edge before Turn 1.

VICTORY

At the end of each Turn, Squads score 1 MP for each Objective they control. The Squad with the most MP by the end of Turn 4 wins the Mission.

SPECIAL

A Unit "Controls" an objective if it is Adjacent to that objective, it is not Adjacent to any enemy Units, and no enemy Units are Adjacent to that objective.

7 - INTERCEPT

"No one escapes."

A lone operative carries intelligence that could change the course of the war. If they reach their destination, the enemy will gain a decisive advantage. But their pursuers are relentless, striking from the shadows and closing in with ruthless efficiency. The chase is on, across shattered landscapes and under the constant threat of ambush. The defenders must reach safety. The attackers must ensure they never do.

SETUP

Select or randomly pick one Squad to be the Attacker. The other Squad is the Defender. Defender secretly selects one of its Units to carry the Intel. This Intel may be dropped by any Unit carrying it. Any Unit may pick up the dropped Intel. If a Unit carrying Intel is Taken Out, place the Intel marker in its previously-occupied spot.

DEPLOYMENT

Before Turn 1, Attacker deploys all units anywhere in the Northeast, East, or Southeast Tiles.

During Turn 1, when it is a Defender Unit's turn to activate, deploy it on the outer edge of the Western tile. Defender always has the initiative in Turn 1.

VICTORY

If a Defender Unit carrying the Intel walks off the outer edge of the Eastern tile, the Defender Squad scores 6 MP.

In all other cases, the Attacker Squad scores 6 MP.

SPECIAL

A Unit may "walk off" the Battlefield by performing a Move (or Dash) of 1 Pace from a Battlefield edge, but only if it is not Adjacent to an Enemy Unit.

8 - RIVALS

"This ends here."

Some battles are personal. Amidst the larger war, two warriors - each sworn to end the other - step onto the battlefield for their final confrontation. They have crossed paths before, leaving behind scars and grudges that cannot be ignored. Their squads fight around them, but the true battle is between these two rivals. Only one will walk away.

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone. Each Squad's Leader is the Rival of the other Squad's Leader. If a Squad has no Leader (i.e. playing a Campaign and the Leader is Deceased), select any Unit in your Squad to be the Rival.

DEPLOYMENT

Both Squads deploy their Units on their selected Battlefield edge before Turn 1.

VICTORY

Squads score 6 MP when their Rival Unit is Taken Out.

Rivals cannot be the primary target of combat except if the attacker is the other Squad's Rival.

9 - SCAVENGE

"Every resource counts in a war of attrition."

Scattered across the battlefield are vital supplies - ammunition, rations, medical kits. In the chaos of war, every bit of gear can mean the difference between survival and death. But retrieving these supplies is no simple task. The enemy is just as desperate, and they will fight tooth and nail to claim the resources first. The race is on. Who will scavenge the most before the battlefield turns into a graveyard?

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone. Place 3 Supply markers in the center of the West, Center, and East tiles.

DEPLOYMENT

Both Squads deploy from their selected Battlefield edge before Turn 1.

VICTORY

Each time a Unit Scavenges a Supply marker, its Squad scores MPs equal to the turn number (1MP in Turn 1, 3MP in Turn3, etc.). That Supply cannot be scavenged again during this Turn. At the end of Turn 4, the Squad with the most MPs wins the Mission.

SPECIAL

Scavenge (1 ACT): The Unit Scavenges an Adjacent Supply marker. The Unit's Squad scores MPs equal to the Turn number (so 1 MP on Turn 1, 2 MP on Turn 2, etc). A Unit may not perform this action if it is Adjacent to an enemy Unit.

10 - INFILTRATE

"Silent. Deadly. Unstoppable."

Under the cover of darkness, a squad moves through enemy territory, their goal clear - breach the defenses and secure a foothold within the enemy's base. Their foes are unaware, but not for long. The first shot fired will set off a chain reaction of chaos and violence. Can the attackers slip through and establish their presence, or will the defenders crush the intrusion before it begins?

SETUP

Each Squad selects one of two opposing Battlefield edges to be their Deployment zone. Select one Squad to be the Attacker and the other to be the Defender.

DEPLOYMENT

Before Turn 1, Defender deploys their Units anywhere on their Battlefield Edge.

During Turn 1, when it is an Attacker Unit's turn to activate, deploy it on its Battlefield edge. Attacker has initiative in the first Turn.

VICTORY

At the end of Turn 4, if the Attacker has 2 or more Units on the Defender's Battlefield edge that are not Adjacent to any enemy Units, the Attacker score 6 MP. Defender score 6 MP in all other cases.

BATTLEFIELDS

After selecting a Mission, pick or randomly select one of the following battlefields. The Mission will be played on that Battlefield.

The Galaxy is a dangerous and deadly place; each Battlefield has Effects that affect your Units.

Use your own battlemats, or use our print-at-home Battlefields with the tiles and Paces pre-marked in a grid.

1 - THE RUINED CITY

SETUP

Dense terrain, ruined buildings and corners

EFFECTS

Collapse: At the start of each Turn after the first, select one random tile that has not collapsed. For each terrain element on that tile and for each Pace of height of that terrain element, deal 1 Damage to each Unit within that terrain element's footprint or Adjacent to that terrain element, then remove it from the battlefield.

Once a bustling metropolis, the city now lies in ruins, its skyline broken by jagged silhouettes of collapsed towers and scorched facades. Streets that once thrived with life are choked with debris, the remnants of homes, businesses, and dreams reduced to ash and rubble. Shadows of destruction linger in the form of burnt-out vehicles and craters that scar the land, while the acrid smell of smoke and decay hangs in the air.

2 - THE FACILITY

SETUP

Corridors, tight quarters, small chambers.

EFFECTS

Darkness: At the start of each Turn after the first, select one random Tile. Until the end of the Turn, Units on that Tile cannot be targeted in Ranged combat.

The industrial facility stands as a monument to neglect, its once-thrumming machinery now silent and encased in layers of rust. Massive gears and conveyor belts hang motionless, their surfaces corroded and flecked with peeling paint, hinting at decades of disuse. Cracked windows let in shafts of pale light that illuminate the grime-covered floors littered with broken tools and tangled wires.

3 - THE JUNGLE

SETUP

Dense foliage, little to no elevated terrain.

EFFECTS

Stinging Cloud: At the start of each Turn after the first, select one random Standing Unit from each Squad. That Unit moves 1 Pace three times in random directions (roll three times). If that Unit cannot make a valid move because of wall or other obstacle, it takes 1 Melee Damage.

The alien jungle pulses with a life both mesmerizing and menacing, its dense canopy blotting out the sky and casting the undergrowth in an eternal twilight. Massive, twisted trees with glowing veins of bioluminescent sap tower above, their roots forming treacherous mazes through the thick, spongy ground. Vines slither like serpents, some twitching with sentience, while predatory plants snap at anything that brushes their razor-edged leaves.

4 - THE ALIEN HIVE

SETUP

Caverns, tight quarters, no elevated terrain

EFFECTS

Noxious Gas: At the start of each Turn after the first, select one random Tile. All Units on that Tile take 1 Damage.

The alien hive looms like a grotesque monolith, its surface an undulating mass of organic textures that pulse faintly with a sickly bioluminescent glow. Towering spires of chitin and resin twist skyward, connected by sinewy bridges that shimmer with an oily sheen. The air is thick and humid, carrying a metallic tang that clings to the throat with every breath. Inside, winding tunnels spiral downward into a labyrinth of chambers, their walls coated in sticky, fibrous webs that pulse rhythmically, as if alive.

5 - THE CURSED TEMPLE

SETUP

Dense terrain, ruined buildings and corners.

EFFECTS

Cursed Spirits: At the start of each Turn after the first, select one random Unit from each Squad. That Unit is overtaken by the temple's restless spirits and immediately attacks the closest Unit in Combat, SquadMate or enemy.

The cursed temple rises from the earth like a jagged scar, its crumbling stone walls etched with the maddening sigils of ancient, terrible gods. A perpetual gloom surrounds the structure, as if sunlight dares not touch its malevolent facade. Its towering spires are wrapped in withered vines, and its gateways yawn like the gaping mouths of forgotten horrors. Inside, the air is suffocating and thick with the scent of damp stone and decayed offerings. Faint whispers echo through the dark corridors, carrying fragmented words in a language long lost to time.

6 - NO MAN'S LAND

SETUP

Open terrain, trenches, long lines of sight.

EFFECTS

Artillery Strike: At the start of each Turn after the first, select one random Tile. All Units on that Tile take 2 ranged Damage.

A barren expanse scarred by endless war, No Man's Land stretches between the shattered frontlines of long-dead armies. The ground is churned to mud and ash, cratered by orbital barrages and scarred by the rusting skeletons of tanks and walkers. Jagged trench lines crisscross the battlefield like open wounds, some still slick with blood and oil. Barbed wire tangles and sun-bleached corpses mark the no-go zones, while distant artillery thunders like the last breath of a dying god. Visibility is cruelly clear; any movement invites death from a mile away. There is no cover, no mercy. Only survival, moment to moment.

11. CAMPAIGNS

CAMPAIGN STRUCTURE

A Campaign is composed of three Operations, and each Operation is composed of three Missions.

At the end of each Operation, your Squad returns to Homebase to heal injuries, resupply, and recruit new Units into the Squad.

To build a Campaign, randomly select the nine missions from the list of Primary Missions, or string together three Scripted Operations.

OPERATIONS

Each Operation sees your Squad sent to a location to execute three Missions. All three Missions in a given Operation occur on the same Battlefield.

While on an Operation, your Squad is in the field and cannot change its Units or Gear selections.

Once the third Mission of an Operation is done, your Squad returns to Homebase to heal Injuries, make new Gear selections, and recruit new Units.

HOMEBASE

At the end of each Operation, your Squad returns to Homebase.

During Missions, your Squad will earn XP and GP. These cannot be spent on any Gear or Units until your Squad returns to Homebase.

- Add 2 GP to your Squad's Max GP + 2 GP for each Victory in the previous Operation
- Remove all Deceased Units from your Squad
- Remove all Injuries from all (non-Deceased) Units
- Recruit new Units into the Squad
- Make changes to your Squad's selected Gear and Spoils Of War (for eligible Units). Units may select one Spoil of War for each increment of 5 XP.

SAMPLE CAMPAIGN

- Operation 1 - The Facility
 - Mission 1.1 - Retrieve Intel
 - Mission 1.2 - Intercept
 - Mission 1.3 - Sabotage
- Homebase
- Operation 2 - The Ruined City
 - Mission 2.1 - Rivals
 - Mission 2.2 - Scavenge
 - Mission 2.3 - Control
- Homebase
- Operation 3 - No Man's Land
 - Mission 3.1 - Defend
 - Mission 3.2 - Infiltrate
 - Mission 3.3 - Eradicate

SPOILS OF WAR

For each increment of 5 XP earned, a Unit may take one Spoil Of War when it returns to Homebase at the end of an Operation (unless it is Deceased).

For example, a Unit with 13 XP can take 2 Spoils Of War.

- ACCURATE 1
This Unit may re-roll up to 1 of its Ranged Combat attack dice. This is cumulative with other Accurate specials (e.g. on this Unit's weapons).
- BRUTAL 1
This Unit may re-roll up to 1 of its Melee Combat attack dice. This is cumulative with other Brutal specials (e.g. on this Unit's weapons).
- COUNTER
Each time this Unit is the target of a Melee Attack, if this Unit did not lose any HIT by the end of that Combat, it may immediately perform a Melee Attack against the original Attacker.
- DODGE 1
Each time this Unit is the target of a Ranged Combat attack, it may re-roll up to 1 of its Armor Saves. This is cumulative with other Dodge specials.
- MELEE ATT +1
This Unit's Melee weapons gain + 1 ATT.
- RANGED ATT +1
This Unit's Ranged weapons gain + 1 ATT.
- TECHNICIAN
During each of its Activations, this Unit may perform one Mission action for 1 less ACT.
- TOUGH 1
Each time this Unit is the target of a Melee Combat attack, it may re-roll up to 1 of its Armor Saves. This is cumulative with other Tough specials.
- TREASURE TROVE
The Squad can spend an additional 5GP on Units and Gear. Increase the Squad's MaxGP by 5.

INJURIES

At the end of each Mission, each of your Units that were Taken Out during the mission may have a persistent injury. Note that when playing a campaign, all Injuries (except Deceased) are removed from your Units when they return to Homebase at the end of each Operation.

At the end of each Mission, for each Unit that was Taken Out, roll 1D6 to determine the Injury this Unit received.

If the Injury is one that the Unit already had, that Unit is Deceased. Remove the Unit from the Squad. That Unit cannot be replaced until the Squad returns to Homebase at the end of the Operation.

If the Injury is "Healed", remove one other Injury from that Unit. If it has no other Injuries, "Healed" has no effect.

- 1-2 - HEALED
Remove one Injury from this Unit.
- 3 - BODILY INJURY
The Unit gets -1 MSK (minimum 1).
- 4 - HEAD INJURY
The Unit gets -1 RSK (minimum 1).
- 5 - IMPAIRED MOVEMENT
Each time the Unit performs the Move action, it moves 1 less Pace.
- 6 - DAMAGED ARMOR
The Unit gets -1 ARM (minimum 1).
- DECEASED
The Unit has perished. Remove it from your Squad. It cannot be replaced until it returns to Homebase at the end of the Operation.

MEDALS

As your Squad completes Missions and achieves objectives, it grows in skill and available resources.

During each Mission, your Squad's Units gain XP from medals as described below. Each Medal can only be claimed once per Unit.

Each time this Unit uses this weapon, if it rolls at least one Critical Strike, the target gets -1 ACT in its next Activation (minimum 1).

14. PLAYING ON A GRID

While Ruinstars is designed for freeform placement and movement on the battlefield, you can also play on a grid to simplify movement and measurements.

BATTLEFIELD

The Battlefield is a 15x15 grid of Squares, each one exactly 1 Pace (40mm or 1.5in) to a side. All movement and distance/range measurements are done by counting Squares.

You can bring your own battlefield, or use our print-at-home Battlefields with the Tiles and Squares ready to go.

TILES

The Battlefield is divided into 9 equal Tiles, each composed of 5x5 Squares/Paces.

Some missions may describe their setup in terms of a Tile's position (e.g. "Western Tile", "Center Tile", "SouthEast Tile"). Before the mission, both players should agree which way is North on the Battlefield, then refer to this diagram to find the right Tile.

MOVEMENT

When a Unit moves on the Battlefield, the maximum distance it can travel is 3 Squares.

Movement can be done along any cardinal direction (North, South, East, West) or in diagonal (North-East, North-West, South-East, South-West).

SQUARES

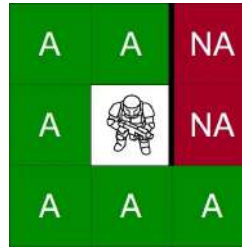

All movement and distance measurements are measured in Squares. No need for tape measures, gauges, or rulers!

Using a grid provides simplicity of movement and measurement and avoids imprecision in moving miniatures and checking weapon ranges.

ADJACENT SQUARES

All 8 Squares surrounding a given Square are considered to be Adjacent to that Square. When selecting a valid target for Melee combat, the attacker and its target must be in Adjacent Squares. Two Squares that are on different elevations are not considered to be Adjacent.

If a wall that is 1 Square or taller is between two Squares, those two Squares are not considered to be Adjacent.

The Squares marked A are Adjacent to the Unit. The Squares marked NA are blocked by a wall and are not Adjacent to the Unit.

15. QUICK REFERENCE

TURN SEQUENCE

7. Reset: Reset Tactical Orders (TOs) to zero

BASIC ACTIONS

- Ranged Combat (1ACT): The Unit performs a Ranged Combat attack against a valid target

2. Roll ATT dice: Dice at or below SKL deal 1 damage (1 = Crit: 2 damage).
3. Target Rolls ARM saves per damage: Dice at or below ARM save 1 damage.
4. Critical Save: Blocks 1 damage and inflicts 1 Melee damage back (can chain).

 3. Map: The Unit or one of its Squadmates may immediately perform a Move Action.
 4. MedPack: The Unit gains a MedPack. This MedPack can be used for 1 ACT during any of this Unit's activations. When used, the Unit or an Adjacent Squadmate regain 1D3 lost HIT. The MedPack may not be used if this Unit or the selected Squadmate are Adjacent to any Enemy Units. Once used, remove the MedPack from the Unit.
 5. Nothing: The Crate is empty, nothing happens.
 6. Booby Trap: The crate explodes, dealing 2 Ranged Damage to all Adjacent Units and Items.

FACTIONS

Select the Faction that best fits the way you want to play and build your squad using the App. Squads are typically built with a maximum value of 100 total GP (including all unit and gear costs).

Your Squad can only include one Leader (with the Leader x Special), and it cannot include more than 1 of each Unique Unit (marked with an asterisk *).

When selecting Gear for your Squad (Weapons, Equipment, etc), any item whose name ends with an asterisk (*) is Unique and cannot be added more than once to your squad.

HUMAN HEGEMONY

The Human Hegemony is not merely defending its borders, it is reclaiming the Stars. Born from the wreckage of fractured coalitions and failed utopias, the Hegemony believes the only path to survival is through absolute, total control. Alien civilizations, breakaway colonies, rogue intelligences - all are viewed as eventual threats. The Hegemony does not wait for chaos. It strikes first.

Through a grinding machine of bureaucracy, propaganda, and overwhelming force, it subjugates world after world in the name of order. Its systems may be uneven, its reach imperfect, but its will is relentless. From the core worlds to the forgotten sectors, the message is clear: compliance is life; resistance is annihilation.

INTERDICTORS

Elite commandos of the Human Hegemony, deployed where diplomacy was never an option. Interdictors operate behind enemy lines to eliminate threats, secure forbidden tech, and silence dissent before it spreads. Disciplined, relentless, and unyielding, they are not peacekeepers, they are the sharp edge of a regime that expands by force and survives through fear.

"We are the mandate. We do not fail."

The Interdictors are elite commando units, precision instruments of sanctioned annihilation who answer to the silent, unseen, infallible Hegemon itself. Operating behind enemy lines, they are tasked with critical strike missions: assassinating rebel leaders, sabotaging planetary infrastructure, disabling artifact vaults, or seizing xeno-tech before it spreads. They operate in shadows and leave nothing standing.

Drawn from the Hegemony's most loyal and lethal operatives, Interdictor squads are self-sufficient, heavily armed, and trained to adapt.

SKILLS

- Brutal

- Duty Before Death
When this Unit reaches 0 HIT, it may perform one free basic or mission action before being removed from the battlefield. That action must be 1 ACT or less.
- Grav Belt
This Unit's Heavy weapons don't limit its movement and it can move normally.
- Grenade
Select one spot on the battlefield visible to and within 3 Paces of this Unit. Inflict 2 Damage to all Units and Items Adjacent to that spot.
- Jump Pack
This Unit ignores vertical distance when climbing up or down terrain.
- Leader 2
This Unit gains +1 HIT, +1 RSK, +1 MSK, and Leader 2: While this Unit is Standing, you may roll an additional 2 dice to determine Tactical Orders every turn.
- Medpack
Select either this Unit or an Adjacent Squadmate. That selected Unit recovers 1D3 lost HIT. This Unit cannot perform this action if this Unit or the selected Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Relay Order

- Smoke Bomb
This Unit carries a Smoke Grenade. Once per mission, this Unit may throw its Smoke Grenade by placing a Smoke token up to 3 Paces away from it and within its Line Of Sight. Until the end of the Turn, a cylinder of Smoke occupies that location with a radius of 1 Pace. The Smoke cylinder blocks Line Of Sight and Units that are within the Smoke cylinder cannot perform Ranged Attacks against any other Units. This Unit may not perform this action while Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Strategize
This Unit's Squad gains +1 TO.
- Technician
During each of its Activations, this Unit may perform one Mission action for 1 less ACT.

THE SWARM

Wherever the Swarm appears, it spreads, mindlessly or with chilling coordination, until nothing remains but silence and bone. Its origin is unknown, its motives unknowable. Some believe it is an ancient weapon system gone rogue; others call it a living ecosystem without restraint. All agree on one thing: where the Swarm goes, extinction follows. Worlds overrun by the Swarm are stripped bare. Populations vanish. Structures are hollowed out and repurposed. Swarm spores infect the soil. The sky changes. Survivors, if any, report impossible variations in creature forms as if the Swarm is adapting, experimenting, iterating across entire biospheres. Attempts at diplomacy, control, or biotechnological subversion have all failed. The Swarm does not, can not listen.

DRONE POD

A hivemind of insectoid abominations bred only to feed, the Swarm descends on worlds in an endless tide, stripping them of all life and biomass. Mindless yet coordinated, disposable yet adaptive, they are evolution weaponized - a galactic extinction event with claws, teeth, and hunger eternal.

"One claw rips. A thousand claws erase."

The Swarm doesn't strike all at once. It infiltrates first.

Drone Pods are the first wave: fast-growing, semi-autonomous drones designed to soften resistance, overwhelm defenders, and prepare the environment for mass conversion. They are not smart, but they are brutally efficient — directed by hive-echoes and biological imperatives that ripple from distant queens or nodes.

Some are specialized to tear through armor. Others spread viral mold or excrete corrosive spores. All are designed to be expendable. They are not born to win battles. They are born to open the way.

CRIMSON SHROUD

The Crimson Shroud is a revelation, spreading across the stars like a psychic contagion. It began with the discovery of chthonic relics on forgotten worlds: impossible artifacts inscribed with whispering patterns. Those who studied them began to change. They saw through the illusions of individual will, through the boundaries of species and flesh.

They heard the Song beneath the Stars.

Now, the Shroud spreads silently as a cross-species cult of indoctrinated zealots, altered psionics, and sleeper agents. On some worlds, they wear robes and preach transcendence. On others, they move in secret, reshaping governments, implanting suggestions, turning enemies into allies without a shot fired.

To outsiders, they appear fractured and decentralized. But beneath that lies unity. A single doctrine. A single rhythm. A single crimson thread binding all who surrender.

SILENT CHOIR

A cross-species cult bound by relics, rites, and the psychic resonance of forgotten gods. The Crimson Shroud spreads like a thought-virus, infiltrating worlds, turning enemies into acolytes, and unraveling reality through ritual. Their warriors do not shout or rage. They whisper, reshape, and break the mind before the body ever falls.

"They are already inside your walls. And inside your thoughts."

The Silent Choir is the Shroud's militant arm, psychic agents and ritual assassins used to neutralize resistance and purge those who cannot be turned. These squads are surgical, terrifying, and eerily calm. Their movements follow sacred geometries. Their words alter memories. Their weapons hum with ancient resonances.

Where they strike, confusion follows. Friendly fire, hallucinations, screams from minds collapsing under pressure. Their role is not just to kill, it is to unmake belief. To destroy identity. To prepare the soil for the seed.

This Unit may not perform this Action if it is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Dissonance Shroud

- Relic Lash
This Unit's Relic Blade gains Rending 1.
- Silent Choir
This Unit gains +1 ATT on its Melee weapons whenever its Leader is in its Line of Sight.
- Swift
Each time this Unit performs the Dash action, it costs one less ACT. This means that the first time this Unit performs a Dash in each of its Activations, it costs zero ACT.
- The Face Of Truth
All Adjacent enemy Units must move 1 Pace directly away from this Unit. If an enemy Unit cannot move in that direction, inflict 1 Melee Damage on that enemy Unit instead.

OUTER CLAIM

The Outer Claim is not a single empire or culture. It is a resurgence of lost bloodlines, forgotten worlds, and shattered civilizations drifting inward from the galactic fringe. These clades were abandoned centuries ago, cut off from the Hegemony in the centuries since their inception. Some degenerated into tribal warbands. Others adapted. Others... changed. Now, they return.

The Hegemony calls them raiders. Pirates. Terror cells. But to the Claimants, they are the rightful inheritors of the galaxy. They remember the betrayal. They remember being left behind. And they've spent generations adapting biologically, technologically, and spiritually to survive the void.

Their warbands are a mix of species, tech levels, and ideologies. Some come to conquer. Others come to warn. But none come in peace.

CLAIMANT WARBAND

Once-abandoned worlds now surge coreward, bearing the scars of exile and the fire of reclamation. The Claimant Warbands are fractured remnants of forgotten colonies, mutant clades, and survivalist tribes, united only by the belief that the galaxy owes them a debt. They strike without warning, vanish without trace, and fight as if the stars themselves are contested ground.

"We carry old debts in new blood."

Claimant squads are ragged, improvised, and brutally effective. They fight dirty, ambushing from asteroid cover, hijacking orbital infrastructure, pillaging peaceful colonies, using semi-sapient machines as living shields. What they lack in polish, they make up for in sheer unpredictability.

Each warband is different: a mix of ancient relics, mutated biology, and stolen gear. They are bound by necessity, oath, or vengeance. Their cohesion is fluid. Their tactics brutal. But when they move, they move as one.

SKILLS

- Accelerator Membrane
This Unit gains +1 ACT (maximum 3).
- Bladesmith
This Unit's Melee weapon gains +1 SKL.
- Call of the Ancestors
Until the end of the Turn, all Units in this Squad gain +1 ATT on their Melee weapons. This can only be done once per mission.
- Grenade
Select one spot on the battlefield visible to and within 3 Paces of this Unit. Inflict 2 Damage to all Units and Items Adjacent to that spot.
This Unit may only perform this Action once per mission. This Unit cannot perform this Action while Adjacent to enemy Units.
- Imposing
Each time this Unit is the target of a Melee Attack, the Attacker does not get any support modifiers from its Adjacent Squadmates.
- Jump Pack
Once per Mission, this unit may spend 2 ACT to move up to 5 Paces in a straight line (orthogonal or diagonal), ignoring vertical movement and difficult terrain. This Unit may not perform this Action while Adjacent to an enemy, or if it is carrying an item (e.g. mission intel).
- Leader 2
While this Unit is Standing, you may roll an additional 2 dice to determine Tactical Orders every turn.
- Medpack
Select either this Unit or an Adjacent Squadmate. That selected Unit recovers 1D3 lost HIT. This Unit cannot perform this action if this Unit or the selected Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Protect The Kin
One time per Turn, when a Squadmate of this Unit within 3 Paces goes to 0 HIT, roll 1D6. On a 2 or lower, that Squadmate is not Taken Out and has 1 HIT remaining.
- Push
Target an adjacent enemy. Inflict 2 Damage on that enemy, then move that enemy up to 2 Paces in any one direction. If this causes the enemy to fall off terrain, it takes Damage equal to vertical distance it fell in Paces.
- Relay Order
This unit may spend 1 ACT to issue an order to a SquadMate in its Line of Sight. That SquadMate immediately performs a Free Basic Action, then this unit's activation is resumed. This Unit cannot perform this action if this Unit or the selected Unit is Adjacent to any enemy Units.
- Scanner
Until the end of the Turn, enemy Units do not benefit from Cover
- Strategize
This Unit's Squad gains +1 TO.
- Take 'Em Down
Target one Enemy. This Unit and all its SquadMates immediately perform a Free Ranged or Melee attack against that Enemy if it is a valid target. This can only be done once per mission
- Technician
During each of its Activations, this Unit may perform one Mission action for 1 less ACT.
- Vengeful
Each time this Unit performs a Combat action, it may reroll a number of attack dice equal to the number of Squadmates that have been Taken Out (max 3).

EIDOLON REVENANTS

The Eidolon empire once spanned half the known galaxy, a dynasty of god-kings, logic-oracles, and celestial warforms who ruled through ritual, decree, and incomprehensible science. But time is a slow poison. Complacency took root. Traditions ossified. Innovation became heresy. Entire star-clades turned inward, forgetting conquest for introspection, empire for ceremony.

Yet even in decay, the Revenants remain vast. Their fleets drift in the void. Their rites still hold power. Their dominion may have rotted at the edges, but their core endures, mysterious, immortal, and quietly enraged.

Now, as the galaxy fractures once more, the Eidolon Revenants begin to stir. Not as one, but as many. Splintered claimants rise: would-be emperors, seer-priests, and rogue war-matriarchs each declaring themselves heir to the Throne Astral.

They do not agree on the future, but they agree on this: the galaxy was theirs, and will be again.

RELICT WARDENS

Ancient rulers whose dominion never truly ended, only faded beneath ritual and decay. The Eidolon Revenants are a fractured, immortal aristocracy whose starborn dynasties still command relic armies and reality-bending technologies. Splintered by time, they now rise again, each Scion seeking to restore the empire that once bound the galaxy in its ghostly grip.

"The past is the strongest weapon. We carry it in every gesture."

The Relict Wardens are the Revenants' shock-troops: ghostlike warriors clad in psionically-activated exo-armor. They do not speak. They do not run. They march in geometric formations older than language, carrying weapons shaped by will and memory.

Their presence distorts light. Their movements follow celestial alignments. Some say they are projections, echoes of ancient battles still playing out. Others say they are deathless, their minds distributed across timefolded memory-cores.

They appear where the Revenants reassert control: lost temples, vault-worlds, alien monoliths, derelict thrones.

GRUTAK

The Grutak are belligerent, brawling spawn of shattered worlds: a species bred by war, for war, through war. Equal parts brute and genius, they build crude yet brutally effective weapons from scrap and ruin, driven by instinct more than doctrine. Their society values strength, noise, and action above all. Clans gather around the loudest warlords, their loyalty held together by the promise of battle and the sound of things exploding. Grutak don't fight for territory or ideology; they fight because fighting is what they're for.

KRUMPFISTS

Elite(ish) shock troops of the Grutak warclans, "promoted" by surviving the loudest battles. Krumpfists are deployed for missions that require things to get messy, fast: they breach, brawl, and leave the rest in flames.

"Subtlety's for things you don't want dead."

The Grutak Krumpfists are the blunt instruments of a species that doesn't believe in finesse. Formed from the loudest survivors of the loudest battles, Krumpfists are fielded when the warboss wants something wrecked quickly. They're not infiltrators in the traditional sense, they just arrive faster and louder than the main horde, using explosives, brute strength, and improvised tactics to rip open enemy lines.

Their loyalty lies with whomever shouts the hardest and carries the biggest scrap-blade. Coordination is rare, but when one charges, the rest follow just because no one wants to miss the fun.

They break things. They don't ask why.

SCRIPTED OPERATIONS

War rages across the stars. Squads clash in ruined cities, cursed temples, alien jungles, and forgotten fortresses. Yet not every battle is random. Some are part of carefully planned operations, chains of missions where each outcome shapes the next, where victory builds momentum, and defeat forces desperate gambits.

This section collects a series of tailor-made mini-campaigns for Ruinstars, each designed around specific factions and their rivalries.

Whether you're playing a quick three-mission arc or stringing multiple operations into a larger campaign, these scenarios bring new life and variety to your battles.

Use them as written, adapt them to your campaign, or draw inspiration to create your own.

FROM THE ARCHIVES OF THE WARFRONT

"Records tell us that history turns not on grand crusades, but on knife fights in forgotten ruins. A convoy lost. A leader enthralled. A shrine defiled. These are the sparks that ignite empires, the stains that never wash clean. Each squad is a thread in the weave of destiny, each skirmish a test of survival. Do not mistake these operations for small affairs; they are the crucibles where factions rise or die."
